BEAUTY QUEEN'S
STORY UNSHAKEN
BY FRENCH POLICE

Mrs. Nixon-Nirdlinger Continues to Say She Acted in Self-Defense

EVIDENCE SUPPORTS IT
Magistrate to Decide Whether To Release Her or Not

NICE, France, Mar. 14.—(INS).—Alternatively calm and frantic as attorneys and police questioned her repeatedly about the slaying of her husband in their villa here Wednesday night, Mrs. Fred G. Nixon-Nirdlinger, former St. Louis beauty queen, remained unshaken in her story today that she fired to save her own life from his jealous fury.

Evidence has since been uncovered in the Nixon-Nirdlinger villa on the fashionable Promenade des Anglais tending to support her version of the slaying, but French authorities reached out to St. Louis and Philadelphia to get further information about the "Cinderella bride" of the theatre owner.

When all possible angles of the tragedy have been fully investigated, Magistrate Vachier will decide whether to release the 1933 "Miss St. Louis" or whether charges shall be placed against her. She is being held informally.

Under French law, should manslaughter be charged and the case named for trial, Mrs. Nixon-Nirdlinger would face the prospect of spending some six months in jail. A person accused of murder in France cannot be released on bail pending trial.

The young widow's strongest point of defense continued to be her claim that domestic affairs had reached the stage where her own life was jeopardized by her husband's constant jealous rage. A fully loaded revolver owned by the dead man, and a drawing depicting him leveling a revolver at his wife were found in the villa by police. On the reverse side of the drawing was written:

"As you sow, so shall you reap."
Mrs. Nixon-Nirdlinger's personal aid has supported her statements fully. Continued investigation by police has failed to uncover any reproachable incidents in her conduct. She will probably be taken before the magistrate for a final examination next week.

It was understood that relatives of the slain man will arrive here soon to take charge of the couple's two children, a boy of 3 and daughter 2 years old.

REPORT MORE AUTOS

HARRISBURG, Pa., Mar. 14.—(INS).—An increase of 11,702 in registration of passenger cars over 1930 was announced by the State Bureau of Motor Vehicles here. On Feb. 1, Pennsylvania had 1,171,207 passenger cars licensed, the bureau reported.

HORSE THIEVES ACTIVE

SANDUSKY, O., Mar. 14.—(INS).—Thieves in Erie County apparently fail to observe the trend of modern times, according to the county sheriff, who was called upon recently to hunt for a horse and buggy which had been stolen from a country doctor.

STARTS INSTALLMENTS

LONDON, Mar. 14.—(INS).—The sale of Bibles on the installment system in Scotland 100 years ago was the beginning of credit trade. E. A. Cross, chairman of the Parliamentary Committee of the Federation of Credit Traders, made this disclosure in the House of Commons.

GASOLINE PRICE DROPS

The price of gasoline has dropped in Bristol, one cent a gallon. The retail price is now 18 cents. There is a rumor to the effect that the same price is to be maintained here as exists in New Jersey, where the price has always been a few cents cheaper than in Pennsylvania.

MAKING UP YOUR LIST

PERHAPS you do your staple shopping by the week.

Larger items you renew each month.

Household furnishings, automobiles, radios, and similar things are in the nature of investments, whether for months, for years, or for life. You buy these things at long intervals.

But no matter what you buy, you serve yourself best if you plan your purchases in advance. Every list you make is a budget in itself. Careful study of the advertisements will always help you in picking and choosing . . . in comparing prices . . . in weighing your needs and desires.

Making up your list is really a fascinating game when you play it against your allowance. The more careful you are in the preliminary study of the advertisements, the better will be your chance not only to get the best selection for your purpose . . . but also to find out in advance how much money you can save for unplanned extras!

Returns to Bristol
After Trip to California

William S. Sweeney has returned to his home on Buckley street after an extended stay in California. In December, Mr. Sweeney, accompanied by his friend, Frank Quinn, of Rahway, N. J., left via motor for a trip to the west coast, taking the southern route along the Gulf Stream to New Orleans, via Lake Charles to Texas, Arizona and California.

While in California, the cities of Los Angeles, Beverly Hills, Hollywood were visited. From California the two went to Mexico. The return trip was made via boat, sailing on the S. S. Pennsylvania. The route took them through the Panama Canal, stopping at Balboa, Panama and Havana.

The young men also had a splendid view of the Atlantic and Pacific fleets in Balboa. Mr. Sweeney thoroughly enjoyed the entire trip which was one long to be remembered.

While in California, Messrs. Sweeney and Quinn visited John Reardon, a former resident of Buckley street, who is in the Navy and at present stationed at the Naval Air Base, off North Island.

WILL SEEK REMOVAL
OF NEW YORK MAYOR

Plea to Governor to Be Based On Year's Investigation

CHURCHES JOIN MOVE

NEW YORK, Mar. 14.—Removal of Mayor Walker from office will be formally requested of Governor Roosevelt next week by the City Affairs Committee, it was announced today, after a meeting of the executive body of the committee.

Detailed charges against the Mayor will be presented to the Governor by John Haynes Holmes, pastor of the Community Church and chairman of the committee, and Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, of the Free Synagogue.

The final decision to act, it was stated, was taken upon the advice of unidentified, "eminent legal counsel," after examination of charges against the Mayor, which the committee has been assembling after a year of quiet investigation.

In general nature, it had previously been intimated, the charges will be similar to those of incompetence and neglect of duty brought last week against District Attorney Thomas C. T. Crain by the City Club. Both Mr. Holmes and Dr. Wise have asserted that a much stronger case of such character could be made against the Mayor than against Judge Crain.

New York Man Refuses
To Waive Extradition

A man charged with desertion and non-support of his wife and seven-months old baby refused last night to go back to New York and thus today steps are being taken to have him extradited by the Governor of the Empire state.

Dominick Tumillo, 26, is now living at 1904 Trenton avenue. He appeared before Justice James Guy last night after being arrested on a warrant from New York state wherein his wife charges him with desertion and non-support.

Tumillo was represented by Horace N. Davis and he refused to waive extradition. He was admitted to $2,000 bail.

Tumillo says that he is willing to support his wife and baby if they will come here to live. "I have a job here. What will I do if I go up there?"

JOFFRE GRANDNEPHEWS

CLEVELAND, Mar. 14.—(INS).—Two grandnephews of Marshall Joffre, idol of France and hero of the Marne who died recently, work in the meat-packing division of a provision company here. They are Albert and Charley Joffre and, with Albert's two sons, are believed to be the only relatives of the late Marshall living in this country.

PINCHOT SAYS PROBE
BACKS HIS CHARGES

Facts Forced Senate Group To Submit Findings Against Commission

WITNESSES TESTIFY

HARRISBURG, Mar. 14.—Governor Pinchot declared that a preliminary report filed by the Earnest Senate Committee investigating the Public Service Commission constituted a vindication of his attacks on the commission made during the campaign last year and repeated in his inaugural address.

Reviewing the investigation of the commission now under way by committees of the Senate and House, the Governor asserted that the former body "has been forced to make a preliminary report which is nothing in the world but a confirmation of what I have been saying right along."

Earlier in the day the House Committee headed by Representative D. Glenn Moore, of Washington county, had heard a delegation from Pottsville criticize the rates of the water and gas companies serving that city.

The committee also examined B. Frank Morgal, chief of the Bureau of Accounts, of the Public Service Commission, who had previously testified before the Senate probers.

Morgal, in effect, questioned the accuracy of a report given to the committee yesterday by William W. Colledge, a Pittsburgh accountant, who submitted a list of electric companies that in 1928 piled up profits considerably in excess of seven per cent.

While the figures on which the Colledge report was based were taken from the files of the Public Service Commission, Morgal stated they do not include all the factors taken into consideration for rate fixing or profit showing purposes.

The witness was given a copy of the Colledge report and was requested by Harold Evans, counsel of the committee, to return at a later hearing with his analysis of the returns that should be credited to the companies in question.

BACK FROM BERMUDA

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Reid have returned from a delightful honeymoon trip to Bermuda. Mrs. Reid will be remembered as Miss Edith McConnell, a former member of the Bristol teaching faculty.

TROOPERS SEARCH FOR ARMED BANK BANDITS

Wide Net Stretched for The Capture of Chalfont Desperadoes

MISS $3,000 BY HOUR

CHALFONT, Mar. 14.—State troopers, a dozen highway patrolmen and constables are making a wide search for the quartet of armed bandits who yesterday afternoon held up and robbed the National Bank here, escaping with $2,000.

Russell H. Hartzell, president of the bank, assures depositors that no loss will result from the robbery, as such thefts are covered by insurance.

The robbery, it is believed, was carefully planned to occur while E. Cyrus Twining, the cashier, was out to lunch. When the bandits entered the bank, Hiram Bruner, 23, teller, and George W. Weisel, 70, a local butcher, were the only ones inside. While they were at work Miss Anna R. Lovett, 70, of Chalfont, entered. At the point of a gun she was driven into the office of the bank president and ordered to remain there.

"Three men walked into the bank quietly," Bruner told the police. "All had their hands in their pockets. One of them said 'Throw up your hands and keep quiet.' At first I didn't quite get it, but the leader swore and said, 'Go on, throw 'em up, we mean business.' Then I knew it was a hold-up."

He said that when Miss Lovett came into the bank, she was hustled aside by one of the bandits and threatened if she made an outcry. While two of the bandits covered them with pistols, he said, the third clambered over a 10-foot partition and swept the money, mostly in bills, from the money drawers.

"There was a sudden backfire outside," said Bruner.

"The men looked at each other as though they thought it might be a police automobile. One of them had just asked me to open the safe, but I told him I didn't know the combination. When they heard the backfire they didn't bother looking around any more. They backed out of the door and told us they would shoot us if we made an outcry."

Scooping the money from the cash drawers in the teller's cage, the bandits fled from the building, apparently frightened by the loud noise of a motorcycle exhaust in the street outside the bank. Several persons passed the bank building during the robbery, but were unaware of what was going on inside.

Four hours after the hold-up, the teller, Hiram Bruner, 23 years old, of Chalfont, and George W. Weisel, 70, a butcher, of Chalfont, one of the customers, identified one of the bandits from a rogues' gallery picture at the Philadelphia Detective Bureau. The man is said to be a known gunman with a police record.

The men were armed with guns and escaped in a blue sedan stolen three weeks ago from Jacob Labe, Elkins Park. The machine was operated by a fourth member.

Less than an hour before the hold-up, sums totaling $3,000 had been withdrawn by officials of hosiery mills to pay off their employees.

Income Tax Collector
To Be At Post Office

Collector of Internal Revenue John Y. Turner will be at the postoffice building, here, until Monday of next week, to receive returns for income taxes for the year 1930. Returns for the past calendar year should be filed not later than March 15th. Attention is again called to the fact that a penalty of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, and in addition 25 per cent of the amount of the tax, is imposed for wilful failure to make return on time.

TULLYTOWN LOSES AFTER
EIGHT STRAIGHT WINS

Long String of Victories Shattered by Meadowbrook Club

RESERVES ARE VICTORS

By T. M. Juno

TULLYTOWN, Mar. 14.—After winning eight straight, the winning streak of the Tullytown A. C. basketball five was shattered here last night when they were downed by the fast Meadowbrook Club of Trenton by the score of 24-15.

The largest crowd of the season saw the home team go down to defeat. Every available space in the playing hall was taken up and spectators were jammed in the hallway for a chance to see the two teams in action.

Failure to have a better average from the foul mark was the cause of the home team being defeated. Although they scored seven times on free throws they missed more than twice this many. The boys just could not seem to get in those throws from the foul mark.

The resident team only scored twice from the field in each half. In the first twenty minutes of play, Carman and Rodgers scored double-deckers and in the second half, Carman and Lake came through with two-pointers.

The defensive work of the Tullytown team deserves mention. The boys took to defensive playing and held the Meadowbrook five to eight points in the first half and sixteen in the second half. Most of the tallies, however, came after the timekeeper had announced that only three minutes remained to play.

There was no individual on either club as teamwork was outstanding throughout.

The line-up:

First Party of Year
To Be Held in Legion Home

The card party to be held Monday evening at the American Legion Memorial Home on Radcliffe street, is the first to be held by the Legion this year, and a large number of tickets have been sold as the parlor and large meeting room are now available.

Forty or more prizes have been secured and should be an inducement for all to try their luck with the cards. Owing to the probable inclemency of the weather and the desire of the Legion to have guests spend an enjoyable evening throughout, it has been arranged that those calling the Legion, 616, will have free transportation to and from the party, as a long cold walk may spoil an otherwise perfect evening.

Tickets and transportation arrangements may be secured from Legionnaires or by calling the Memorial Home.

IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. J. W. Campbell, of Madison street, is under observation at the Harriman Hospital.

BRISTOL STUDENTS TO ENTER SCHOOL MEET

Number of Entries Already Listed for Inter-Scholastic Contest, March 28th

STUDENTS ARE ACTIVE

A number of entries have already been listed from Bristol High School for the Bucks County Interscholastic Meet to be held at Sellersville-Perkasie High School on Saturday, March 28th. The local students who will vie for honors at that time are:

Class A—Declamation: Ida Phillips, "The Highwayman" (Noyes); Thomas Barrett, "Mark Anthony's Oration on the Death of Caesar"; alternate, Eleanor Finney.

Typing: Glenis Still, who can type 63 words per minute.

Composition: Leota Campbell, Jackson Bauer; alternate, Marvin Collins.

Class C—Spelling: John Strong, Irene Kontoff, Charlotte Abbott.

Reading: Irene Kontoff, Bernard Churchway, Fred Randall.

Pennmanship: Winifred Flynn, Janice Muffett.

Several new books have been added to the library of the high school. Included in this list are: "Woodcraft," "The Autobiography of Benvenuto Cellini," "Trader Horn," "Rasputin the Devil," Indian and adventure stories have not been forgotten, and books pertaining to these are included in the more recent purchases.

The basketry club which has been formed in the junior high school, is sponsored by Miss Anna Heritage. Last week the members fashioned pads for hot dishes. Within the next few weeks the basket workers will make flower baskets, sandwich trays and chair seats.

Officers of the club who preside on Tuesday are: President, Gwendoline Adams; vice president, Irene Kontoff; secretary, Jane McAuley; treasurer, Ethel Snyder. Those in charge for Thursday sessions: President, Thelma Well; vice-president, Warren Talbot; secretary, Harriet Stetson; treasurer, James Ridge. The club comprises 41 members.

An airplane club has been formed under the supervision of Mrs. Moore, with 21 boys being affiliated. Those who have been chosen to serve the members are: William Pasmusser, president; Harley Davis, secretary; Walter Fagan, treasurer.

The young men will build model airplanes; and at present are planning a demonstration glider.

It is hoped by the boys that in the future they may be able to join with a larger "Model Airplane Club" organization. Only seventh and eighth grade boys, who are not engaged in other activities and who are doing well in their scholastic work, may join.

STATE NEWS OF GENERAL INTEREST

HOMESTEAD, Mar. 14.—(INS).—Ticking away in mocking derision of the march of time, a German clock owned by J. N. Dean, former West Homestead councilman, is said to have been keeping the hour for 150 years.

The framework of the clock is cast iron, finely burnished. The timepiece is about eighteen inches high and ten inches wide and is apparently in perfect condition.

READING, Mar. 14.—(INS).—For the first time, industries employing about 18,000 men will use daylight saving time this summer. Directors of the Chamber of Commerce have voted to move all clocks ahead on Sunday, April 26, and to keep the advanced time until Sept. 27.

At a recent meeting, the Berks county grand jury voted to make a drive against daylight-saving time, but so far there has been no strong opposition to the change. Daylight saving was adopted here last summer but the Socialist city administration opposed

CAR DRIVER FLEES
AFTER SEDAN HITS
MAN AND AUTO

Owner Reports Auto Stolen 15 Minutes After Accident

IS NOW UNDER ARREST

Edgely Man Caught After 2-Mile Chase by Police Officers

Another drunken driver was arrested early today by Officers Perry and Nichols, making three in all during the past week. Another intoxicated man is being held until such time as the police are convinced that he was not the driver of a car which crashed into a parked machine, climbed a sidewalk and struck a man and then went head-first into the fence at the Washington street school building.

At about 12:30 this morning a large sedan crashed into the car of Paul Grunert, which was parked along Pond street at Washington. The sedan continued onto the sidewalk and ran down James Flannigan, of Wood street, who was passing at the time. The machine did not stop until it ran up against the iron fence at the Washington street school building.

The driver of the car got away before the police arrived but passersby took Flannigan to the hospital of Dr. J. Fred Wagner, where he received treatment.

Police, upon their arrival traced ownership of the wayward sedan to Thomas G. Dawson, 703 E. Hilton street, Philadelphia. About 15 minutes after the accident Dawson walked into the police station and reported that his car had been stolen. He was placed under arrest for being intoxicated.

Police say that the driver of the sedan, immediately after the crash, entered a house near the scene of the accident. The officers went to the house when they arrived, but were told by the occupants that the man had gone out the back door.

A bottle of beer was found in the car.

Witnesses are being checked today by the police in an effort to have them identify Dawson as the driver of the car. If this is done then he will be charged with drunken driving.

Officers Perry and Nichols encountered another drunken driver when they attempted to stop the car of Herman A. Benecke, Edgely, R. D. No. 1. The officers sounded their whistles but Benecke did not stop and the officers chased the car to Edgely where Benecke was caught. He was examined by a physician and pronounced under the influence of liquor. He will stand trial today.

TO EXHIBIT COSTUMES

COLOGNE, Mar. 14.—(INS).—A large and comprehensive exhibition of Rhinish folk costumes and every-day dress from 1700 to 1900 will be held at Easter in the Cologne Museum of Applied Arts. In addition to complete costumes, different articles of clothing will be exhibited, showing the changing styles in 200 years.

PRESERVED CUCUMBER

ATTICA, Ind., Mar. 14.—(INS).—Charles Waltz of this city has a cucumber that is 69 years old. In 1862 Mrs. Hall, mother of Mrs. James E. Hall, placed a small sized pickle in a jar and filled the jar with alcohol. The cucumber has swelled until it fills the jar. This curio has been handed down to various members of the family.

GO TO FLORIDA

Miss Anna Sweeney, of Buckley street, accompanied by Miss Jean Fluhr, of Philadelphia, left on Friday evening from Philadelphia for a boat trip to Florida. They will be away ten days.

EDGELY

Mr. and Mrs. John Devlin, of Grieb avenue, motored to Vineland, N. J., on Monday. Wednesday was spent by the couple in Richmond Hills, L. I.

PEACE RISKS

The world knows too well the hazards of war. To prepare for wars, to venture to run them, statesmen have long been accustomed. Their best provision and their most careful planning often have gone wrong. But still their common attitude has been that certain risks are unavoidable in the development of nations and in the growth and complexity of international contacts. But who of them is willing today to risk something, perhaps much, for the sake of peace?

Because plans to secure the settlement of all controversies between nations by peaceful methods are necessarily, being man-made, imperfect in the sense that they cannot absolutely guarantee the prevention of war, public men drew back from them as if frightened. Their hearts would not quail in the presence of hostilities thrust upon them, but they grow timid and spiritless when some one points out a possible defect in the machinery to establish peace.

Until the nation is willing to incur great risks for the sake of securing a great national blessing, the prospect is that Congress will continue to slay war verbally but do nothing whatever practical and positive to bring about and establish just and lasting peace.

All the nations of the world are more loath to enter into peace pacts than to make treaties with other powers for waging wars upon common enemies, although these latter leagues involve the greater risks.

WASTEFUL DISTRIBUTION

So wasteful is the present system of commodity distribution that it is basically anarchistic and lawless. The average commodity doubles in price from producer to consumer, and a large part of the goods handled retails for five times or more what it costs to manufacture it. This is not due to profiteering, but to wasteful distribution.

Distribution costs are too high in every field. Gasoline at the filling station is four times as high in price as at the refinery, and yet the filling station's profit is low. The difference between the cost of coal at the mine and in the cellar is the difference between cheap and costly coal. The same is true of milk, wheat and all other commodities.

Entering into the high cost of distribution are middlemen's profits, high transportation costs, losses and multiplication of the gambling element in all business.

Probably the greatest single step in the reduction of distribution costs in recent years was the universal adoption of the hand-to-mouth method of retail buying, which removed the guesswork from laying for the retail trade and largely reduced the losses from the old method of buying.

The soundest view to take of present and future developments in retailing, however, is that, once a sure way of reducing wastes is found, it will not be long in adoption.

Some little town might get on the map now by questioning the authenticity of gravity.

Slapping a man on the back is all right at times, but at other times it isn't striking him the right way.

CROYDON WANTS TO IMPROVE STATE ROAD

To Send Committee to Doyles-town to Interview the Commissioners

OTHER CROYDON NEWS

CROYDON, Mar. 14—The Road Committee of the Chamber of Commerce at an early day will go to Doylestown to get an audience with the Commissioners to ask why Croydon cannot have a better State Road, which every one knows is in a very dangerous condition, not only for vehicles but for pedestrians who are compelled to walk in the street where there are no sidewalks.

Don't forget the snapper lunch at the fire house, Saturday night, a social time for the firemen and wives and friends.

Otto Schuster, Sr., has given up his position at the Blue Moon hosiery mill. The meeting of the Girl Scouts was a night of fun, games and games featured the evening with Lieutenant Miss Edna States as their instructor. Lieutenant States extends an invitation to the older girls to come to the meetings as they would be a great help to her as the Scouts are getting ready for the big meet in Doylestown in May.

INTERESTING MEETING HELD BY P. O. OF A. LODGE

Social Time Enjoyed Following the Usual Business Session

IN ANDALUSIA HALL

ANDALUSIA, Mar. 14—The P. O. of A. Lodge held its meeting in the P. O. S. of A. Hall on Wednesday evening.

The regular order of business was transacted with Mrs. Andrew Keiper presiding. A new member was initiated into the order. After the meeting refreshments consisting of coffee and sandwiches were served and then the hall was darkened, and everyone was given a paper and pencil to draw a picture of a horse, a man on the horse, a hat on the man and a box of oats in front of the horse. When the lights were switched on everyone had a good time laughing at the queer looking pictures. Mrs. Harry Hibbs and Mrs. Norman Fries received taffies for having the best looking picture; and Mrs. Mary Jackson received a prize for having the funniest looking picture. On March 25 a card party will be held after the meeting. Everyone is cordially invited. The meeting will start at 7:30 and the card party at 8:30.

On Wednesday a covered dish luncheon was held in the basement of King Hall. There were 22 present to partake of the lovely menu, which everyone enjoyed. These luncheons will be given every Wednesday during Lent for the benefit of the Lenten offering. Everyone is cordially invited.

FORT MYERS, Fla., Mar. 14.—Connie Mack isn't paying much attention to infielders and outfielders in the Philadelphia Athletics spring training sessions here at Terry Park. He's more interested in the 17 pitchers for he's satisfied his veteran fly chasers and ground gobblers can take care of the 1931 situation as they did while coasting into the 1929 and 1930 World Series.

The 68-year old pilot of the present world champions is searching for at least one winning pitcher to assist his two star performers—Lefty Grove and George Earnshaw. Connie would like to uncover two reliable moundmen but he'll be satisfied with one. And if he does find a third hurler to work with Grove and Earnshaw he'll be confident of again finishing ahead of the American League pack.

Connie doesn't care whether the third winning pitcher is right handed or a southpaw. He has a large assortment of both working out daily. They're big chaps, mostly over six feet in height with one—Hank McDonauld—reaching the 6 feet 4 inch mark. There's no particular reason why Connie has Diamond Carneras here except that he just likes his pitchers big. The bigger they are the better he likes them.

Grove and Earnshaw, according to Connie's dope, should win 50 games. His problem is to win between 40 and 50 more. From last year's corps he has Rube Walberg, an erratic southpaw who flattered last season after a sensational start; Bill Shores, Texas right hander who won 12 and lost 5 after being useless the first two months; Roy Mahaffey, former Portland iron man who showed much promise at times last season; and Eddie Rommel, veteran knuckle ball artist, who for some reason doesn't get the starting chance his yearly record entitles him to.

Unless we've missed our guess, it will be to the veterans Mack must look for his third and fourth starting pitcher. The other pitchers in camp are all youngsters with very little experience in organized baseball. They're wonderful prospects, yet scarcely ready to jump into the 1931 race and lend much of a winning hand. It would be too much to expect 19 and 20 year old boys with only 8 or 10 minor league games under their belts to halt sluggers like Ruth, Gehrig, Cronin, Rice, Bleue, Hodap, Morgan, Gehring and Alexander.

McDonald, 19-year old boy of Santa Monica, Cal., is showing the best form. He held the Cardinals to one hit and fanned four in four innings last Sunday. He has terrific speed and uses all of his 6 feet 4 inches and 200 pounds. He lacks experience, having worked in less than 10 games for Portland last summer.

Other youths fighting for pitching jobs who have a chance are Charles Perkins, former Williams College southpaw; Alfred Mahan, 21-year old southpaw who pitched great ball for Allentown until he developed a sore arm; Albert Butcher, 19-year old 6 feet 4 inch righthander of Mann, W. Va., who has been in pro ball one year but who has tremendous speed and a sharp curve; Jimmy De Shong, 20, purchased from Harrisburg; Glenn Liebhardt, 20 year old son of the former Cleveland star who pitched one great game against the Yanks last year before going to the minors; and Lew Krausse, 18 year old Philadelphia schoolboy who took a western trip with the A's last year and held Columbus of the American Association to four scattered hits. He is changing his style from side-arm to overhand pitching.

The A's will be better fortified with substitutes this year. Simmons, Haas and Miller again will switch around the outfield spots with the waving of Mack's famous scorecard. Bob Johnson, Portland slugger and brother of Detroit's hard-hitting Roy; Jimmy Moore, Texas, who broke in as a sub last September; Lou Finney, 20-year old Buffalo, Ala., rookie, and a brother of the promising Pittsburgh catcher; Roger Cramer, who played one-half of 1930 with the A's before finishing with Portland; and J. C. Lessley, 22-year old graduate of the Alabama-Georgia League, are striving for the two open outfield jobs. It will be a hard task to beat out Cramer and Moore.

Mickey Cochrane will have two new assistants to replace Cy Perkins and Wally Schang. Jack Heving, obtained with Phil Todd from the Boston Red Sox, will be first understudy. Joe Palmisano, of West Point, Ga., former Georgia Tech football star, purchased from Portland; and Frank Leslie, big 6 feet 1 inch backstop who was purchased from Brantford, Ont., after six months' minor league playing, are struggling for the third catching position.

Fox, Bishop, Boley and Dykes, veteran combination, again will start at the infield posts. Phil Todd will understudy Fox; Frank Higgins, former Texas collegian has been shifted from third to second; Dib Williams, utility infielder last year, has been stationed at short on the pony infield and Eric McNair, last season Bishop's aide, is fighting it out with Ed. Chiocki, of Wilmington, Del., for the right to be Dykes' understudy. If Eddie Collins is listed as an active player, two of the pony infield will be cut from the squad.

Tullytown Loses After
Eight Straight Wins

The Trenton Trojans were defeated by the Tullytown Reserves in the preliminary game by the score of 38-24. The Reserves were too much for the Trojans who only by a desperate last ditch rally managed to bring their total to twenty-four.

Nickerson, for Tullytown and Cardella, for the invaders were the stars of the game.

The line-up:

CLASSIFIED COLUMNSComedy to Be Presented
In St. Mark's Hall

The show, "Slipping," a typical American comedy, which will be produced by St. Mark's Dramatic Club Monday and Tuesday evenings in St. Mark's Hall, promises to hold the audience in expectation from the first to the last scene.

The comedy has to deal with the average American family life showing Marion Hardy, a modern college girl, who falls ecstatically in love with Wayne Trenton just as a career is opening up to her, and the difficulties she has in adjusting her romance.

There are the two pretty young daughters who chose to marry before they finished their education and want to "come home to mother" at the first sign of trouble. Mother Hardy is so upset at the modern tendencies of her daughters, that she goes on strike in order to straighten out her family.

Young Andy Hardy is an adorable adolescent lad with his first "case"—a typical Booth Tarkington part. He keeps the audience in a gale of merriment with his humorous observations.

Grandpa Hardy touches the heart with his absent-mindedness and his reminiscences about Grandma; and the white satin slippers he makes for Marion to be married in, have a great deal to do with straightening out her love affair.

Although "Slipping" is hilariously amusing, it tells many an underlying truth which all audiences are bound to relish. Humor is blended with pathos and a deliciously garnished philosophy makes "Slipping" more significant than the average comedy. It is life.

Local folks playing the various characters include the following:

Miss Grace Blanche, Miss Mary Fox, Dennis Roche, Mrs. Carl Winch, Miss Mary Conley, Miss Jane Lynn, William Gallagher, Nevin McGinley, C. Thomas Hoffman, Edward McIlvaine. The curtain will be raised at 8.30.

WITH a string of eight straight victories during the current indoor season Gus Moore, Black Diamond Flyer of the Brooklyn Harriers, seems definitely established as one of America's best 2-milers, though his time for the distance, usually about 9:20, is far from the world's record of 8:58 1-5 held by Pasvo Nurmi. Moore, however, is just beginning his career. He is sturdy and ambitious. In a year or two, he may break Nurmi's remarkable record. In the meanwhile Gus is proving himself a most admirable competitor, his only defeat of the season occurring recently when Leo Lermond led him to the tape. Brooklyn's "Black Diamond" sure as sparkling and... the 1932 Olympian.

The words "black menace" usually are uttered in connection with pugilism, especially since the championship days of Jack Johnson when the world was scourged for "white hopes"—one of them—Jesse Willard—finally walloping the darkest of all the so-called "b. m.'s." In that role, Harry Wills succeeded Johnson, his futile efforts to engage Jack Dempsey arousing much attention. Finally, Jack Sharkey whipped the rather aged Wills and that ended Harry as a menace.

However, George Godfrey—world champion po'k ester—loomed a real stygian cloud on the ring horizon but most of the boys would not do business with

Why Commute?

Why travel back and forth to your employment, which is here in Bristol, when such desirable dwellings are to be obtained here at such reasonable rents? It will pay any individual to investigate!

Work Where You Live and Live Where You Work.

If you are employed in Bristol you should live here. It will be less expensive and there are numerous other advantages derived from making your home in the town where you are employed.

You will save many hours a year which are now spent in traveling and you will have more time with your family.

The saving in money will also be considerable. Add to that which you are now paying for rent the amount which you spend in traveling back and forth to your employment here. You'll be surprised at the total. Rent a house here at a moderate rental and bank the difference.

Houses.

Comfortable dwellings, well situated and at moderate rents are to be found in that portion of Bristol which is immediately adjacent to the P. R. R. passenger station.

These houses make ideal homes and consist of six rooms with bath.

Conveniences.

They are heated by hot-air furnaces with a direct pipe leading to every room. They are lighted with electricity and are equipped with sewer, municipal water and gas.

Each room is well lighted and yet the space devoted to windows is not excessive.

Front porches are another attractive feature as is also a small rear yard where children can play in safety away from the perils of traffic.

Houses such as these would rent for considerably more in any city, where the conveniences would not surpass those offered here.
